

Technology Interns from CUNY

Purchase Deadline: July 26, 2013

College students from the City University of New York (CUNY) are available to assist your school with its technology needs. The Division of Instructional and Information Technology (DIIT) and CUNY are working together to deliver high-quality interns, willing and able to provide support in the following areas:

- Setting up new computer equipment in classrooms and offices
- Installing software
- Ensuring that LCD projectors, smart boards, and other related audio/video equipment are functioning
- Troubleshooting hardware and software problems in conjunction with DOE Help Center and borough technology staff
- Configuring wireless devices to access DOE network
- Maintaining classroom servers
- Maintaining technology equipment inventory
- Monitoring equipment and working with Help Center to ensure timely repair
- Providing assistance in use of technology equipment
- Coordinating with MOUSE Squad, if applicable

High-quality interns

Interns are working toward degrees in computer-related fields and are screened by CUNY and interviewed by a borough technology manager at DIIT. Interns receive 12 hours of classroom and field training from DIIT on a range of topics, including network troubleshooting, wireless configuration, HSST, instructional software, and network printing.

On-site, dedicated support
